REGISTRATION & WELCOME – 10:00 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

SESSION I – 10:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.
Something Borrowed, Something Blue: Recent Developments in the Federal Tax Laws Samuel A. Donaldson

Keeping things fresh in a marriage and estate planning means constantly changing to keep up with the times. Sam will provide a complete overview of recent developments in federal income, estate, and gift tax laws. This informative and entertaining presentation will include an overview of what's happening in Washington, recent changes in statutes, regulation and ruling and an interesting overview of case law applicable to estate and charitable planners. The presentation will include:

- Analysis of pending (or passed) tax reform
- Successful charitable giving strategies
- Creating estate plans that survive tax reform
- Basis planning ideas

ETHICS SESSION – 12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m.
I Do! I Don't! A Planner's Guide to Ethical Dilemmas Estate and Charitable Planners Face Ann B. Burns

Doing the right thing isn't always easy. Determining where client conflicts might arise, avoiding malpractice, and staying up to date on the latest trends and developments can leave planners in a quandary. This ethics session will include a review of current rulings and cases around the country on ethics topics including:

- Mistakes and errors by attorneys
- Joint representation of a married couple
- Avoiding, disclosing, and addressing conflicts of interest
- Disclosing potential malpractice to a client

LUNCH (is included) – 1:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m.

SESSION II – 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.
Engaging Your Client in the Charitable Conversation Ann B. Burns

Planners sometimes struggle with “popping the question” with their clients about charitable planning. This presentation will include tips on how to introduce the topic of charitable giving with clients and assist them on discussions of how much, to whom, and when. Ann will address some of the following topics:

- Clients desire and expect advisors to discuss charitable giving with them.
- Raising charitable giving strategies for clients' stages in life and wealth.
 - Younger clients with less wealth may choose contingent testamentary gifts.
 - Middle aged clients who are more financially secure are more receptive to affirmative giving during life and at death.
 - Older clients with well-settled wealth more often consider more active and complex lifetime giving and larger testamentary charitable gifts.
- Counseling clients about “how much”:
 - 1% Club or tithing
 - Maximizing tax leverage
 - Endowing lifetime giving with a testamentary gift
 - Charity as a child
- “Trumping” the estate tax deduction: Specialized gifts when there is no federal estate tax
 - Terminating existing CRTs
 - Retirement assets
 - CRTs for farm assets
 - Business succession
 - Special assets

SESSION III – 4:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.
Wrap-up Discussion/Q&A Ann B. Burns and Samuel A. Donaldson

CONCLUSION – 4:30 p.m.

Introducing the Faculty

Ann B. Burns, J.D.
